ACM RECOGNIZES 18 RETIREES AT RECENT CUMBERLAND-CAMPUS RECEPTION

Eighteen Allegany College of Maryland faculty and staff members with a combined 417 years of service were honored on their retirement this academic year at a recent reception. Colleagues spoke to the impact the retirees have made in their careers and of their contributions to the college. Several of the 18 offered remarks about what their service had meant to them.

Pictured, from left to right, are: Chris O’Rear, assistant to the director of human resources, 25 years; Javan Scheller, professor of nursing, 15 years; Marilyn Evans, professor of nursing, 36 years; Charlene Smith, assistant to the vice president of finance and administration, 37 years; Don Sweitzer, custodian, 20 years; Charles Jackson, testing lab assistant, 13 years; Paula Jilanis, associate professor of massage therapy, 15 years; and Dr. Jim Howell, professor of biology, 39 years.

Other retirees recognized were: Chuck Carlomany, coordinator of maintenance technicians, 25 years; Elsie Keel, mailroom manager, 34 years; John Morley, coordinator of security, 10 years; Von Mosser, athletics and physical education custodian, 12 years; Cindy Neff, professor of nursing, 36 years; Jim Nichols, coordinator of community health and human services, 12 years; Tim Rowan, professor of human service associate, 27 years; Bill Stevens, custodian supervisor, 36 years; Ralph Welsh, custodian, 13 years; and David Wiley, custodian, 12 years.
In addition to current colleagues and previous retirees, family members of the retirees attended the afternoon event, which was planned by a college committee and moderated by ACM’s president, Dr. Cynthia Bambara. She thanked the retirees for their service and “contributions to the success of our students” and wished them many satisfying years ahead.
